Council for the Indian School Certificate Examinations (CISCE)

MISSION STATEMENT

The Council for the Indian School Certificate Examinations is committed to serving the nation's children, through high quality educational endeavours, empowering them to contribute towards a humane, just and pluralistic society, promoting introspective living, by creating exciting learning opportunities, with a commitment to excellence.

ETHOS OF CISCE

- Trust and fair play.
- Minimum monitoring.
- Allowing schools to evolve their own niche.
- Catering to the needs of the children.
- Giving freedom to experiment with new ideas and practices.
- Diversity and plurality - the basic strength for evolution of ideas.
- Schools to motivate pupils towards the cultivation of:
  Excellence - The Indian and Global experience.
  Values - Spiritual and cultural - to be the bedrock of the educational experience.
- Schools to have an 'Indian Ethos', strong roots in the national psyche and be sensitive to national aspirations.

FOREWORD

The Council for the Indian School Certificate Examination has endeavoured to sincerely take forward the vision of NEP 2020 in enhancing pedagogy and assessments through systemic reforms. In alignment with this vision, the CISCE also remains committed to ensuring that learning is meaningful, and that assessment practices are utilised as tools for growth, reflection, and continuous improvement rather than as an exercise in mere evaluation.

The ISC and ICSE examinations have long served as the cornerstone of the CISCE's academic framework, especially in shaping the educational journeys and futures of countless CISCE students. In this context, the Analysis of Pupils' Performance documents have played a significant role in strengthening the CISCE's assessment culture. These reports have, over the years, supported students in understanding subject-wise expectations and in preparing effectively for the Board examinations.

Our heartfelt appreciation is extended to the Research Development and Curriculum Division (RDCD) of the CISCE for their dedicated efforts in preparing this detailed document for the benefit of students. Our sincere appreciation and gratitude to the subject-matter experts at School of Continuing Education and University Resource Centre, Azim Premji University (APU) for their comprehensive and thoughtful analysis of select ICSE subject documents. We also express our gratitude to the examiners for their meticulous evaluation and insightful feedback on candidates' performance, as well as for recommending pedagogical strategies to help teachers address common areas of difficulty.

We are confident that students, teachers, and parents will make the best use of this document by engaging with its various sections in depth and by implementing the learnings to ensure enhanced and successful performance in the forthcoming examinations.

PREFACE

The Analysis of Pupil Performance document is a standing legacy of the Council for Indian School Certificate Examinations (CISCE) that aims at capturing performance trends of CISCE candidates in the annually conducted ICSE and ISC examinations. Over the years, these user-friendly and accessible reports have helped CISCE schools analyse patterns in candidates' responses to board examination papers, while also providing valuable pedagogical insights and suggestions for teachers.

Each year, CISCE undertakes this exercise of a detailed analysis of the performance of candidates for selected subjects at both the ICSE and ISC examinations. Each subject document includes the questions from the board examination along with the marking scheme for each question, enabling teachers and students to better understand the scope of the question and the appropriate approach to answering it. It also presents an infographic presentation of statistical analysis and contextualised commentaries on candidate performance with detailed insights and remedies on the errors. Towards the end of the document, a comprehensive summary highlights the topics revealing gaps in conceptual understanding, areas that candidates found confusing, and tailored suggestions to help students approach examinations more effectively.

The uniqueness of this document lies in its micro-analysis of items in board examination papers where suggested pedagogical strategies are tied to each common errors identified from candidates' answers, a strategy that CISCE believes is rudimentary in driving improvements rather than merely sharing a broad stroke macro analysis of candidate performance. While these reports are grounded in real candidate data, they also lend themselves to seamlessly to classroom action.

The Analysis of Pupil Performance document for ICSE for the Examination Year 2025 covers the following subjects - English Language, Literature in English, Hindi, History and Civics, Geography, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Commercial Studies, Economics, Computer Applications, Economic Applications, Commercial Applications, Environmental Science and Home Science. In addition to the comments by CISCE examiners, the document has also included insights and pedagogical suggestions from experts at School of Continuing Education and University Resource Centre, Azim Premji University (APU).

The subjects covered in the ISC Analysis of Pupil Performance document for the Year 2025 are - Accounts, English Language, Literature in English, Hindi, Economics, Commerce, Business Studies, Mathematics, Physics, Chemistry, Biology, Elective English, History, Political Science, Geography, Psychology, Sociology, Computer Science, Environmental Science, Home Science and Legal Studies.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to all the ICSE and ISC examiners who have shared their valuable comments on each question. My sincerest appreciation and gratitude to subject matter experts at Azim Premji University (APU) for their detailed analysis of the documents for ICSE subjects. I also acknowledge the efforts of the RDCD team of Dr. Manika Sharma, Ms. Parul Kohli, Ms. Lyimee Saikia, Ms. Mansi Guleria, Ms. Gunjan Khurana, Ms. Madhusree Chatterjee and Ms. Aakriti Agrawal for their commitment to ensuring the compilation of the comments and data into its current form.

We hope that the document is successful in its intended mission of better assisting our teachers in identifying areas that require focused intervention and allowing them to better support CISCE students. At the same time, we also hope that it guides our students in developing a roadmap of effective study methods for their examinations.

Comments of Examiners

(i) The question was generally attempted well by the majority of the candidates; however, some candidates selected option (b) 'President' instead of the correct answer (a) 'Lok Sabha'. This response suggests a potential confusion between the concepts of individual and collective responsibility. A few candidates also seemed uncertain about the responsibility of ministers, while others chose the Prime Minister, indicating a partial understanding of the subject.

(ii) Most of the candidates attempted this part correctly. However, a few candidates confused options 'Y' and 'W'. It was also observed that the eligibility criteria for membership of the Rajya Sabha was not entirely clear to some candidates, which led to errors in their responses.

(iii) Many candidates appeared confused and selected different options. It was evident that a significant number of candidates lacked clarity regarding the concept of Judicial Review, which affected the accuracy of their responses. On the contrary, only a few candidates attempted this question well.

(iv) Almost all the candidates answered this question correctly.

(v) This question was answered well by most candidates. However, a few candidates selected option '(a)', under the assumption that an Adjournment Motion could lead to the dissolution of the Lok Sabha, which reflected a need to strengthen conceptual clarity in terms of 'actual scope and implications'.

(vi) A large number of candidates attempted this question properly; however, very few candidates chose incorrect distractors reflecting misconceptions related to the concepts.

(vii) Majority of the candidates attempted this part correctly. However, some candidates experienced difficulty in correctly connecting the assertion with the reason, which led to confusion in their responses.

(viii) Most of the candidates answered this part correctly, while a few candidates chose different options.

(ix) Almost all the candidates attempted this part correctly. However, a few candidates

Suggestions for teachers

- Bring clarity in the concept of individual and collective responsibility of the Council of Ministers and the Prime Minister. Focus on the fact that in collective responsibility Prime Minister is a part of the Council of Ministers to help students gain full credit in framing the responses.
- Provide clear differences about the control of the Lok Sabha over the Executive. Focus in class that it is the lower House that exercises the maximum power over the executive through various ways, thus the Council of Ministers are collectively responsible to them.
- Ensure that students memorise the minimum age criteria for both Houses of Parliament, along with a good understanding of the words or terms such as insolvency, office of Profit, and so on, to identify the correct answer from all angles.
- Explain different jurisdictions of the Supreme Court with relevant examples to avoid any overlapping in concepts or confusion.
- Develop Academic Vocabulary of the particular subject through classroom discussions about the Supreme Court and provide real-life examples to understand the concept of Advisory Jurisdiction, Judicial review and how it is interrelated or connected to each other.
- Focus on the differences between the role of 'other Jurisdictions of the Supreme Court' and 'the power of the Judicial Review', where the former are exercised to control any individual, authority, or common man and the latter specifically controls the legislative and executive orders or laws in case of violation of the Constitution.
- Provide cartoon-based picture analysis and similar activities to students to incorporate entertainment, in an effective way for students to understand different concepts of the Lok Sabha. It encourages critical thinking and helps to visualise complex ideas in a simpler format.
- Elucidate three kinds of emergencies and the circumstances of their proclamation with examples, for bringing better clarity among students. In addition to this, encourage students to read the questions properly related to all the emergencies declared by the President prior to selecting the correct answer.

missed out the word 'odd' and thus selected Bal Gangadhar Tilak as the answer.

(x) Most of the candidates answered this part correctly. However, few candidates chose different options, as they were not clear about the contributions of Jyotiba Phule.

(xi) This question was appropriately attempted by majority of the candidates.

(xii) Most of the candidates answered this question correctly, while some candidates chose option (d) 'Revivalism' instead of (c) 'Swadeshi'.

(xiii) This question was well attempted by most of the candidates. However, some candidates missed the word 'not' and selected an incorrect answer (c) instead of the correct answer (b).

(xiv) This question was well attempted by majority of the candidates.

(xv) A large proportion of candidates attempted this part of the question properly.

(xvi) This question was well attempted by all the candidates.

Suggestions for teachers

- Give practice to students to develop higher-order thinking skills of assertion and reason and guide them towards connecting the two statements logically.
- Explain the parliamentary procedures with relevant examples. Instruct students to read the questions carefully and answer as per the requirements. By providing a comprehensive understanding of the reasons for adjournment and addressing common misconceptions, students will develop a more nuanced and accurate perspective on parliamentary procedures.
- Encourage critical thinking through practice and explain the interconnection of historical events clearly.
- Explain the way Lord Curzon's divide and Rule Policy were reflected in his decisions that further aggravated aggressive nationalism in India.
- Bring together all the repressive policies in a tabular form to avoid confusion and explain Governors General and their influences and impacts with the help of a timeline. Accompany it by a flowchart of various policies introduced by different Governors General, to strengthen the understanding of the students.
- Focus the attention of students towards the names of Early Nationalists (or moderates) and assertive leaders.
- Give practice to students for selecting the most appropriate answer when the distractors are closely connected. Even though all the reformers worked for women's education, Jyotiba Phule was most significantly connected to it. Teach the contributions of the social reformers with special emphasis on their most significant reforms.
- Establish relationship between Ex- Abolition of Sati for Raja Rammohan Roy and girl education for Jyotiba Phule etc.
- Explain the events in chronology along with the major leaders associated with them to help students connect the appropriate leaders with the suitable facts. Also accompany with the nested questions to practice the same.
- Encourage students to collect newspaper headings from the world press regarding the events of the world wars.

Suggestions for teachers

- Teach about the Assertive Nationalists with relevant examples from current affairs to help the students understand the application of policies.
- Train students to learn and remember specific objectives of various organisations and give ample practice of questions comprising a structure of a negative statement.
- Revise the functions of all organs of the UN with multiple illustrations for better clarity. Discuss the agencies of the United Nations through diverse teaching aids.
- Simplify the dictatorship concept by making students prepare a consolidated table summary comprising similar causes and ideologies of the dictators.
- Teach the common causes for the rise of dictatorship, use methods such as timeline creation, cause-and-effect diagrams, historical simulations, debates, and analysis to promote critical thinking and deeper understanding among students.

Comments of Examiners

(i) A large number of candidates answered this question properly; however, a few candidates mixed up the categories of powers and functions and provided varied answers.

(ii) Several candidates answered this question appropriately; however, few candidates mixed up the categories of powers and functions and gave diverse responses.

(iii) This question was well attempted by some candidates; however, most candidates were found to be confused between the objectives and factors of the Muslim League.

(iv) Majority of the candidates appeared confused between the 'objectives of the Forward Bloc' and those of the 'INA', and as a result, they mixed up their answer.

(v) Most of the candidates could answer this question correctly; however, a few candidates were not able to mention the 'specific numbers of men' that were required in the response.

(vi) Almost all the candidates attempted this question properly.

(vii) Several candidates were able to deduce the answer correctly and could identify the key words from the passage.

Suggestions for teachers

- Prepare a classification chart to teach candidates a clear overview of the key differences between the powers and functions of the Prime Minister with reference to the President, the Cabinet, the Lok Sabha, etc., to prevent overlapping of answers.
- To teach the methods used by early nationalists, use approaches such as historical case studies, document analysis, interactive timelines, and debates to help students understand their strategies and contributions to the nationalist movement.
- Discuss the clear distinction between the objectives, factors, and events related to the Muslim League. Follow the scope of the lesson and encourage students to refer to diverse sources to avoid confusion.
- A tabular representation with the objectives of each organisation written in separate columns will help clear any confusion. This can be further clarified by explaining the basic difference between the structure of the Forward Bloc and the Indian National Army.
- Discuss in detail the main clauses of the Treaty of Versailles and explain their specific impact on Germany. Train students to mention the numerical details accurately (for instance: 1 lakh limit on army men, 15,000 in the navy, and so on). Encourage students to write the clauses or terms with specific details instead of giving random or generalised answers.
- Utilising a range of stimuli and exposing students to case studies, cartoons, images, and data can greatly enrich the learning experience and facilitate a deeper understanding of core concepts.
- To teach the meaning of the term non-alignment, adopt various teaching methods such as concept mapping, case study discussions, group activities, multimedia presentations, and help students understand its significance in international relations.
- Provide exposure to students of varied relevant passages from newspapers and books for strengthening comprehension skills.

PART II

SECTION A (20 Marks)

(Attempt any two questions from this Section.)

Question 3

The Parliament of India comprises the President and the two houses. With reference to the Indian Parliament, answer the following questions:

(i) Mention any three circumstances under which the Parliament can make laws on subjects in the state list. [3]

(ii) Explain the following terms: [3]

Comments of Examiners

(i) Majority of the candidates answered this question correctly. In general, candidates demonstrated a clear understanding of the concept of Parliament making laws on subjects in the State List. However, a few candidates could not provide a complete response and mentioned only one or two correct points. A number of candidates explained the term adequately. At the same time, the same number of candidates appeared unfamiliar with the concept altogether and showed confusion regarding the exclusive powers of the Rajya Sabha.

(ii) The question was attempted well by most candidates, although some were unable to answer all three subparts accurately. Of the three components, the majority responded correctly to questions on 'Question Hour' and 'Quorum'. However, a few candidates displayed uncertainty and confusion in explaining the concept and implications of a 'No Confidence Motion'.

(iii) This question was well attempted by majority of the candidates; however, some candidates could not answer the first part of the question about the extension of the term of the Lok Sabha, correctly.

Suggestions for teachers

- Explain the powers of the Parliament with relevant examples. Moreover, discuss the unitary features of the Indian Constitution, even though India has a federal structure. Prepare a classification chart to give students a clear overview of the key differences between the Lok Sabha and the Rajya Sabha, with particular focus on their respective powers.
- Emphasise that both Houses of Parliament have overlapping functions but also possess distinct powers granted to them by the Constitution. To reinforce this understanding, divide students into groups and assign each group to research and present on a specific exclusive power of either the Lok Sabha or the Rajya Sabha.
- Explain the parliamentary procedures and related terms with relevant examples to avoid confusion. Use real-life examples or case studies to illustrate each procedure. By providing a comprehensive understanding of these procedures and addressing common misconceptions, students will develop a more nuanced and accurate perspective on parliamentary functioning.
- Prepare a classification chart to help students understand the differences in the qualifications, term, composition, and functions of the Lok Sabha and the Rajya Sabha. Explain the exclusive powers of both Houses with examples and present them in a tabular format for easier recall. Highlight the specific roles of the Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha within the Indian Parliamentary system.

	Governors. Or Chief Commissioners. / Members of the Finance Commission./ All executive orders are issued in his/her name. (Any two)

Comments of Examiners

(i) This question was well attempted by the candidates; however, some candidates did not follow the correct order of the impeachment procedure. A few candidates were not familiar with the concept of the impeachment process.

(ii) Most of the candidates answered this question well. However, some candidates were confused and mentioned the functions of the Vice President, while the question specified the latter's powers as the Chairman of the Rajya Sabha

(iii) (a) This question was well attempted by most of the candidates.

(b)Majority of the candidates answered this question appropriately, while some candidates mixed it up with Legislative functions.

Suggestions for teachers

- Explain the concept of impeachment using a flow chart to ensure students know the steps involved in impeachment in the sequential manner. Explain that impeachment is a process intended to remove the President for a 'violation of the Constitution'. Emphasise that impeachment is not the result of political disagreements but requires proven constitutional violations. Use a flowchart or visual timeline to simplify the steps for students.
- Explain the dual role played by the Vice President with examples to help the students distinguish between these two roles –one as the Vice President and the other as the Chairman of the Rajya Sabha. Parallels can be drawn between the functions of the Speaker of the Lok Sabha and the functions of the Rajya Sabha Chairman, for building conceptual clarity.
- Elucidate the difference between the various powers of the President. Clear the demarcation for the candidates. Explain with examples the meaning of the words Financial, Legislative, and Executive powers with reference to the President for better understanding.
- Discuss in class that Executive powers denote appointments and legislative powers are connected to Parliamentary functions. While teaching the topic of various powers of the President, divide into separate categories. Illustrate with examples clearly other high courts./ Subordinate courts have to follow the high courts of their respective statements while giving judgements in similar cases. (Any two)

Comments of Examiners

(i) Most of the candidates answered this question correctly. However, some candidates were found to be confused between the High Court and the Supreme Court cases.
The common error made by a large number of candidates was that they mentioned 'all civil cases' and 'all criminal cases' instead of specific examples of cases that are a part of the 'Original Jurisdiction of High Court'.

(ii) This question was answered correctly by most of the candidates, but a few candidates wrote about village panchayats. In the second sub-part, majority of the candidates wrote appropriate answers; however, the difference between 'the Sessions Court' and 'the Court of the District Judge' was not understood by some of the candidates.

(iii) (a) Several candidates were confused between 'the Revisory Jurisdiction' and 'Judicial Review'.The remaining candidates were confused between the 'Revisory Jurisdiction of the High Court' and 'the Supreme Court'.

(b) This question was well attempted by a large number of candidates.

Suggestions for teachers

- Explain the meaning of the Original Jurisdiction with relevant examples. Encourage students to make a comparative table of cases to distinguish between 'the Original Jurisdiction of the Supreme Court' and 'the High Court'. Guide students to mention specific examples of 'the types of cases' instead of 'general terms'.
- Focus on the topics namely 'definition of Lok Adalats' as a 'Court of People' and its advantages. Also, deliberate in class the 'advantages of the Lok Adalat' with some examples.
- Explain the difference between the 'Sessions Court' and 'the Court of the District Judge' with examples for better understanding. Guide students to write examples correctly to build conceptual clarity.
- Explain the meaning of the term and the 'jurisdictions of the High Court' thoroughly to students with relevant examples from newspaper reports to avoid confusion between these two concepts i.e. 'Revisory Jurisdiction of the High Court' and 'the Supreme Court'.
- Provide a comparative table of the Jurisdictions of the High Courts and the Supreme Court for better clarity.
- Discuss and reiterate the Court of Record with valid points like those whose proceedings and judgements are recorded and preserved as evidence for future reference, testimony, and enforcing the legal rights based on established precedents.

Comments of Examiners

(i) A large number of candidates could describe the Doctrine of Lapse correctly; however, some candidates were not able to mention the person who introduced the policy.

(ii) This question was well attempted by the candidates, as most of the candidates were able to accurately identify and explain the key features of the socio-religious causes that contributed to the First War of Independence. However, a few candidates could not give complete details of the question asked.

(iii) This question was well attempted by the candidates.

Suggestions for teachers

- Present all the repressive policies in a tabular form to avoid confusion. Explain the Governor-Generals, their influences, and their impacts using a timeline. Use a flowchart to depict the various policies introduced by different Governor-Generals to help students understand them better.
- Use mind maps and other graphic organisers for better clarity and segregation while teaching the causes. Elucidate the policies with examples of Indians affected. Incorporate videos and role plays in class to make the topic more engaging. Draw parallels between society in 1857 and that of today to make the topic more relatable for students.
- Explain the causes of the Revolt of 1857 under subheadings such as Economic Causes, Military Causes, and Political Causes to avoid overlapping. Presenting them in a tabular form will help students gain better clarity.

Question 7

The oppressive British colonial rule led to the growth of nationalism in India. With reference to this, answer the following questions:

(i) The repressive policies of Lord Lytton became a catalyst to the growth of nationalism. Mention any three of his repressive policies to justify this statement. [3]

Comments of Examiners

(i) This question was well attempted by the candidates. However, a few candidates mistakenly included 'IIbert Bill' as a 'policy of Lord Lytton'.

(ii) A large number of candidates attempted this part correctly.

(iii) Most of the candidates could not mention the name of the second President of the Congress. Moreover, several candidates wrote 'general objectives of the Early Nationalists' instead of 'the specific objectives of the Congress'.

Suggestions for teachers

- Provide a clear historical context for the Grand Delhi Durbar and other policies, explaining their significance and purpose.
- Make a clear distinction between the repressive policies of Lord Lytton and the positive reforms by Sir IIbert.
- Explain the power of Viceroys in their colonial roles, actions, and policies in detail for better clarity.
- Illustrate the role of the Press by showing students various reports of the freedom movement reported by the newspapers during the period from 1857 to 1947. Discuss the role of the press in the Indian national movement to help students understand the way ideas sparked revolutions, and the way words became weapons against colonialism. The press not only informed—it inspired, mobilised, and challenged British authority.
- Define the objectives of the various parties and organisations with examples to avoid confusion. Train students to write specific objectives as mentioned and not write generalised answers. Encourage students to mention the first two sessions of the Congress and the names of their respective Presidents.
- Provide a stimulus related to the second session of the INC and derive objectives from the information provided in the case studies.

Question 8

Look at the given picture and answer the questions that follows:

Tears Of Blood: When 1,650 Bullets Changed India Forever

— The Times of India, April 2019

(i) Identify the above incident. Which Gandhian movement did it lead to? Which incident led to the suspension of that movement? [3]

(ii) Mention any three repressive provisions of the Rowlatt Act. [3]

(iii) Mention the following: [4]

(a) Any two causes of the Quit India Movement.

(iii)	(a) Failure of the Cripps Mission / Japanese Threat. (b) Simon Commission / Declaration of Purna Swaraj/ Lahore session of Congress.

Comments of Examiners

(i) This question was well attempted by the candidates. Some candidates, however, could not identify the movement correctly and mentioned 'Non-Cooperation Movement' as the response to the question.

(ii) Majority of the candidates attempted this part appropriately; however, some candidates could not write three repressive provisions of the Rowlatt Act.

(iii) (a) Most candidates incorrectly answered this part as they did not have clarity on the exact causes. The candidates mentioned the events which led to the 'Movement' instead of 'causes of the Quit India Movement'.

(b) A large number of candidates incorrectly included 'the Dandi March' and 'the Nehru Report' as causes of 'the Civil Disobedience Movement'.

Suggestions for teachers

- Explain students the difference between the Civil Disobedience Movement and Non-Cooperation Movement with particular focus on causes and consequences in a tabular form.
- Develop the skill in students to identify pictures. Give students practice by giving them several pictures to identify. Use engaging stories of Gandhi's life and the struggles of common people in these movements. Create visual timelines, posters, or digital presentations on specific movements.
- Discuss with examples, the negative impact that repressive policy or act had on the Indians. It will enable students to have clear idea about the repression of the British.
- Deliberate in class the way the Rowlatt Act severely curtailed civil liberties and led to widespread protests and opposition across India. Emphasise the reason for the Act and the way it was viewed as highly repressive and unjust by Indians.
- Teach the repressive policies of the Rowlatt Act effectively by making students feel the injustice, understand its impact, and see its historical importance. Since the Act suspended basic civil liberties, the key is to use methods that create empathy, critical thinking, and historical awareness.
- Specify two key causes of the Quit India Movement as per the scope of the syllabus. Adopt a structured approach by incorporating the historical context, highlighting major causes and events, and discussing the relevant objectives of related movements.
- Follow the Scope of syllabus to ensure students do not lose out marks due to confusion. Train students to focus on the specific causes as stipulated by the Council. While various causes of the Quit India Movement and the Civil Disobedience Movement can be used to explain the concept, to build a better understanding.
- Expose students to stimulus which lend itself to a historical event in the course of teaching learning process.
- Provide an Image tool analysis to gain better understanding of the picture.

Question 9

Read the passage given and answer the following questions:

In an effort to secure resources for its expanding industries, Japan invaded the northern Chinese province of Manchuria. Although many Western nations protested the Japanese action, most members of the League of Nations, including Canada, opposed any form of military intervention to defend Chinese sovereignty.A League of Nations commission, headed by the British diplomat Lord Lytton, was dispatched to Manchuria to investigate.

— Loyal Edmonton Regiment Museum

(i) How did the incident being described above become a cause for the Second World War? [3]

(ii) Mention any three reasons for Hitler's attack on Poland. [3]

(iii) Mention any four reasons for the failure of the League of Nations. [4]

MARKING SCHEME
(i)	Japan was determined to dominate the Far East. / Japan left the League. / Japan attacked China. / Invaded Manchuria. / Occupied it. / set up a government there. It started an undeclared war against China. / China appealed to the League of Nations but Britain and France paid no attention to this appeal. / Japan joined Germany and Italy to form the Berlin-Rome-Tokyo AXIS./ continued its policy of expansion and conquest. / Japan left the League of Nations and started occupying British and American properties in China. / France, and Britain followed the policy of appeasement. / They wanted Japan to be used to weaken China. (Any three)
(ii)	Hitler wanted to recapture the Port of Danzing which Germany had lost./He wanted to regain all territories they had lost due to the Treaty of Versailles./ Germany had been divided into two to give Poland a land-route to the sea./ Danzing was inhabited mainly by Germans. / Germany could connect with East Prussia by occupying Danzing corridor./ Germany signed a Non-Aggression Pact with Russia./ Poland was accused of committing atrocities against Germans living there./ Polish independence after World War I irked Germany. (Any three)
(iii)	USA did not join the League and/ countries which joined were not interested in collective security. / It was unable to stop the rise of dictatorship. / League was helpless when France attacked Lithuania. / Japan seized Manchuria. / Italy attacked Ethiopia and Hitler attacked Czechoslovakia and annexed Austria. / In every crisis, the countries either defied or ignored the League. / It did not have an army of its own. / An economic sanction against aggressor nation was of no use as the member states were not willing to apply the sanctions which affected the economy. / Countries lost faith in the League. / Countries entered into mutual political and military alliances./ Policy of appeasement./ Germany was not allowed to be the member./ Russia was not part of the League./ Failed to maintain Peace or could not stop the world war./ Could not stop acts of aggression by France and Italy.

Comments of Examiners

(i) Most of the candidates were able to answer this question correctly as the key words were evident in the passage. However, a few candidates copied the lines from the passage which lead to loss in marks.

(ii) This question was well attempted by most of the candidates.

(iii) Majority of the candidates could answer this question correctly, while some candidates wrote 'generalised answers' instead of 'specific points to explain the failure of the League of Nations'.

Suggestions for teachers

- Give students adequate practice in answering passage-based questions and discourage them from lifting answers directly from the passage. Train them to infer answers based on understanding rather than copying. Encourage reading of diverse passages related to historical events.
- Draw students' attention to the importance of using precise points while answering instead of writing lengthy explanations for the reasons behind the attack. Discuss the context and consequences of Hitler's actions, helping students develop a comprehensive understanding of how these events led to the outbreak of war. Focus particularly on Hitler's aggressive expansionism and the policy of appeasement adopted by other European powers, which ultimately failed to prevent conflict.
- Encourage students to cite specific instances and reasons for failures, and avoid generalised responses.
- Discuss the League of Nations with reference to its formation, objectives, and failure to prevent aggression by rising powers such as Germany and Japan. Link it to the Second World War by explaining how the League's inefficacy and the breakdown of peace efforts contributed to the rise of totalitarian regimes.
- Integrate stimulus-based questions into teaching strategies and assessments to enhance analytical skills.
- Engage students actively by encouraging critical thinking and meaningful participation in discussions.
- Adapt classroom activities to suit a variety of formats, including homework assignments and collaborative group work.

Question 10

The organs and the agencies of the United Nation Organisation work towards the development of the world. With reference to this answer the following questions:

(i) What is the composition of the General Assembly? [3]

(ii) Mention any three functions of the International Court of Justice. [3]

(iii) Give the full form of UNICEF. Mention any three of its functions. [4]

Comments of Examiners

(i) This question was well attempted by most of the candidates, but some candidates were confused between 'the composition of the Security Council' and 'the General Assembly'.

(ii) A large number of candidates were confused and could not mention three functions. Some candidates mentioned incomplete headings like Voluntary Jurisdiction, etc. without specifying the exact functions.

(iii) A large number of candidates attempted this question well. Most candidates wrote the functions correctly; however, a few were unable to write the full form of UNICEF correctly.

Suggestions for teachers

- For the conceptual clarity of the students, train them to prepare a chart reflecting comparative differences between the composition of the General Assembly, Security Council, and International Court of Justice.
- Train students to learn the functions in simple points instead of long explanations. Guide students to frame responses with complete and specific headings.
- Advise students to learn the expansion of acronyms with correct spellings.

GENERAL COMMENTS

Topics found difficult by candidates	• Q1 (i & ii): Concepts of Parliamentary Procedures • Q1 (vi): Powers of the President • Q4 (ii): Powers of the Vice President as the Chairman of the Rajya Sabha. • Q5 (i): Jurisdiction of the High Court. • Q7 (i): Repressive Policies of Lord Lytton • Q8 (i): The causes of the Gandhian Movements • Q9 (i): Invasion of China by Japan • Q9 (ii): Specific terms of the Treaty of Versailles
Concepts in which candidates got confused	• Adjournment and No confidence Motion • Executive and Legislative functions of the President • The dual role of the Vice President as a replacement for the President and the Chairman of the Rajya Sabha • Powers and Jurisdiction of High Court and Supreme Court • Causes and suspension of the Gandhian Movements • Causes of the First World War and Second World War • Composition and functions of the United Nations Organs and agencies

Suggestions for candidates

- Adhere to the scope of the syllabus and comprehend it comprehensively.
- Study the entire syllabus and avoid selective study.
- Go through every topic with sub-headings to attain clarity.
- Identify key words and chronology.
- Make use of mind maps and tabular columns to compare and contrast similar and confusing concepts.
- Learn and revise with flow charts and mind maps to make concepts and topics more comprehensive.
- Utilise flow charts and mind maps as instructional tools to enhance the understanding of concepts and topics using varied e-resources.
- Read from various sources, books, newspapers, and periodicals regularly to connect the subject to current affairs and make personalised notes for each topic to enhance retention and comprehension.
- Undertake rigorous practice of critical and analytical questions.
- Organise study materials with clear headings and subheadings to break down the content for better clarity and understanding
- Write answers by mentioning different points instead of explaining only one point in detail.
- Use the 15 minutes of reading time judiciously to make a proper choice of questions by carefully going through the requirements of the questions.
- Before answering, carefully read and analyse each question to understand its specific requirements and nuances.
- Avoid writing incomplete and short headings. Explain every point with at least one complete sentence.
- Manage time effectively during exams, ensuring a strategic approach to answering questions within the time limit.
- Plan time wisely during exams, allocating sufficient time for each section to write specific and thoughtful answers.
- Present answers succinctly and make use of bullet points or short statements to communicate ideas.
- Identify key terms and ensure events are sequenced logically and accurately in the answers.
- Ensure answers are neatly presented, with clear and legible handwriting.
- Follow the correct numbering system for questions as per the instructions in the exam paper, ensuring clarity and organisation.
- Practice Previous Years' Board Papers, Competency Focused Practice Questions (CFQs), and the Specimen Papers.
