FIGURES OF SPEECH

Figures of speech are expressive tolls used in writing and speaking to make language more vivid, creative, and impactful.

- Simile – A comparison using "like" or "as".
  - Example - She was as busy as a bee.

- Metaphor – A direct comparison without "like" or "as".
  - Example – His mind is computer.
- Personification – Giving human qualities to non-human things.
  - Example – The sun smiled down on us.

- Hyperbole – An extreme exaggeration.
  - Example – I have a tone of homework to do.

- Alliteration – Repetation of the same sounds at the beginning of the words.
  - Example – Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers.

SOUMIK SINGHA MAHAPATRA

♦ Onomatopoeia – A word that limits a sound.

- Example – The clock ticked all night.

♦ Oxymoron – Two words opposite to each other used together.

- Example – The living dead walked in the dark.

♦ Irony – Saying the opposite of what is meant.

- Example – Looking at the messy room: "WOW, what a clean room!"

♦ Pun – A joke using words with double meanings.

- Example – Time flies like an arrow; fruit flies like a banana.

♦ Euphemism – A polite word replacing a harsh word.

- Example – He was let go (instead of 'fired').

♦ Assonance – Repetition of vowel sounds.

- Example – The rain in Spain mainly falls on plain.

♦ Consonance – Repetition of consonant sounds.

- Example – He struck a streak of bad luck.

SOUMIK SINGHA MAHAPATRA

♦ Antithesis – Two opposite ideas in one sentence.

- Example – Speech is silver, but silence is gold.

♦ Paradox – A statemen that seems false, but is true.

- Example – The more you learn, the less you know.

♦ Apostrophe – Speaking to someone absent or non-living.

- Example – "O Death! Where is your victory?

♦ Satire – Satire is a literary technique that criticize human foolishness, society, or politics using humors, irony or exaggeration. It is often used in literature movies, and cartoons to bring attention to social issues.

- Example – George Orwell's animal farm satires political corruption.

♦ Imagery – Imagery is the use of the descriptive language that appeals to the senses (sight, sound, touch, taste smell) to create vivid mental picture.

- Example – The crisp autumn leave crunched under my feet (Sound imagery).

SOUMIK SINGHA MAHAPATRA

SOUMIK SINGHA MAHAPATRA

♦ Allusion – It refers to some persons, incidents etc. from the past. It may be reference from mythological, history, culture etc.

- Example – "Achilles' Heel"(Mythology): Refers to a person's one specific weakness.

(Or)

"Catch-22" (Literature): A paradoxical, no-win situation from Joseph Heller's novel etc.

♦ Anaphora – It is a rhetorical device that involve the repetition of a word or phase at the beginning of successive sentence and clauses.

- Example – We shall fight on the beaches, we shall fight on landing grounds, we shall fight in the fields and on the streets.

♦ Enjambment – It is a poetic device in which a sentence or phrase continues into the next line without a pause, often without a punctuation mark. It's a technique used to create a sense of flaw, continuity, and connection, between ideas.

- Example – "The world is too much with us late and soon getting and spending we lay waste Our power." [From the poem – THE WORLD IS TOO MUCH WITH US by Willam Wordsworth]

♦ Caesura – It is a rhetorical device that refers to a pause or break in speech after used for dramatic are emotional effect.

- Example – I have a vision (_____) of a world where all people are equal. – Malala Yousafzai.

SOUMIK SINGHA MAHAPATRA

- Parallelism – It refers to using similar words, clause, phrases, sentence, structures, or other grammatical elements to emphasis similar ideas.
  - Example – She enjoys hiking, swimming, and biking.
- Juxtaposition – It is an act or instances of placing two elements close together or side. This is often done to show similarities and differences.
  - Example – Better let the never.
    The pairing of a beggar and king.

SOUMIK SINGHA MAJAPATRA